

19THC JACOBEOAN RENAISSANCE CARVED OAK HIGH BACK CANE 3 SEATER HALL BENCH SETTEE

SKU: GD1497

£1,095.00

A decorative and well presented 19th Century Jacobean renaissance carved oak three seater high back bench settee. A superb quality piece with ornate arched back and cane inset panels. A lovely contrast with dark, almost ebonised wood frame, and light coloured cane seating.

Gently curved arms, which are very inviting, are typical of this style. The bench sits on eight legs, all connected by their original turned stretchers with additional decorative arched mounded stretchers to the front. A good sized, well proportioned piece with generous seat. The three seat design provides a lovely balanced and symmetrical feel to the piece.

Seat Height = 46cm / 18"

Price includes UK mainland delivery

The piece is in excellent condition, there are a couple of historic repairs to the arched tops (see photos) but these are well made repairs and are in-keeping with the piece. The bench is sturdy with the cane seating also in excellent order. The item is clean and ready for installation.

Provenance: This piece sat for many years at the famous London Palladium Theatre where it was salvaged backstage, possibly used for stage production or may have been part of the original 1910 décor.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Age	19th Century
Dimensions	H132cm x W141cm x D56cm / H52" x W55.5" x D22"
Material	Oak with Cane Seat
Origin	English

GALLERY IMAGES

