The company's signature product is their line of live-edge dining and coffee tables, each made from a single slab of wood sourced from trees that have fallen naturally. The wood is carefully selected, dried, and finished to highlight the natural beauty and character of the grain.

The company's mission is to provide customers with beautiful, one-of-a-kind furniture that not only looks great but also has a positive environmental impact by giving new life to fallen trees. Fallen Tree Table Co. prides itself on its personal service, custom design options, and dedication to using responsibly sourced materials.
