

PAIR OF SMALL ANTIQUE CARVED STONE CUBE PLANTERS | WABI SABI BONSAI POTS

SKU: GD1717

£485.00

A decorative pair of small natural antique carved stone planters, each with a primitive cube-shaped form and beautiful organic surface texture. One is slightly larger than the other, giving the pair a relaxed, collected feel and making them highly decorative as both interior and exterior objects.

Hand carved from natural sandstone, the planters have the ultimate wabi sabi aesthetic, with softened edges, timeworn character and an earthy natural patina that developed over a long period. Their irregular surfaces create a striking sculptural silhouette that complements both modern and traditional decor.

Compact in scale, they are ideal for use as bonsai pots, herb planters, succulent displays or small naturalistic planting vessels. With no drainage holes, they can also be used indoors for planting with suitable lining or care, bringing a touch of the outdoors in.

The organic sandstone provides an excellent anchor for decorative schemes, adding texture, age and quiet visual weight to shelves, consoles, garden tables, courtyard settings or planted arrangements. Equally effective as standalone decorative pieces, they have a simple, natural beauty that works well with moss, herbs, miniature planting or gravel.

A beautiful decorative pair with a raw, earthy aesthetic, perfect for those wanting to introduce natural materials, age and the quiet elegance of perfect imperfection to a room, terrace or garden.
