SMALL D SHAPE CARVED STONE WEATHERED SANDSTONE PLANTER | BONSAI POT

SKU: GD1597

£375.00

Discover the timeless beauty of this antique carved stone planter. An early piece, circa 1900, the piece showcases the rich, natural patina that develops over a lifetime.

The gentle curved D-shape and irregular surface create a striking, sculptural silhouette that complements both modern and traditional decor. The natural stone has developed a beautiful texture and natural lichen over time, adding to its raw, earthy elegance.

The D-shaped design makes it perfect to put against a wall or as a standalone piece, ample room to display your favourite plants, succulents, or fresh herbs. Whether placed indoors or out, this planter adds a zen-inspired, nature-infused accent with its unique character and charm.

Durable enough for outdoor use, or if preferred to use inside, this antique planter brings a touch of the outdoors in. The planter appears to have a small drainage hole, if using indoors, care sound be taken to ensure no leakage or staining from the planter.

Embrace the beauty of perfect imperfection and the quiet elegance of nature with this organic stone planter.

In good solid condition, as seen in the photo, there is a crack to one side but this does not affect the overall structure and adds to its authentic charm.
